Ajudged Insane.

Wm. A. Wheeler, an employee of the Shakan Salmon Company, at Shakan, Alaska, was brought to Wrangell recently to be examined as to sanity. Papers written by himself were found on his person to the effect that he had been insane at some previous time and gave directions for notifying relatives. He will be taken to the Mt. Tabor asylum where Alaska's insane are taken care of by contract.

Modern Fixtures

Modern store and office fixtures to facilitate the handling of a growing business are being installed at Matheson's this week. Most conspicuous of the store fixtures are the display cabinets for ready-to-wear-clothing. The completion of the plans for remodeling the building and the new fixtures will permit an arrangement of stock that will be advantageous both for handling and display.

35 Juneau Masons Reach Shrine.

Potentate John L. McClean, and assistants of Nile Temple, Seattle, Mystic Shrine, who are making a pilgrimage in the northland, initiated 35 Juneau Masons into the order last Friday evening. The caravan of the Seattle temple will travel north to Nome, visiting the principal Alaska towns on their way.

Donald Sinclair, a local thirty second degree mason and member of the Seattle temple of Shriners, went north on the State of California with the caravan and assisted in the instruction of the class of 35.

Lorimer Ousted.

Wm. Lorimer, U. S. Senator from Illinois, was ousted by a fifty-five to twenty-eight vote last Saturday.

Fishermen and Cannerymen Still Disagree

No concessions by either party and no compromise effected. "Spare time" jobs should be well cleaned up at present.

No concessions have been made or compromises effected by the fishermen and cannerymen of this locality and numbers of idle fishermen are simply waiting for something to turn up or have started mild-curing and salting. Even with a settlement effected soon a record for mild-cured and salted fish is sure to be made this season.

Now that all incidental duties saved for that "spare time" must have been finished, the time should be ripe for some "city beautiful" movement—possibly a tin can day.

Spokane Form Tourist Club.

The tourists of the Alaska Steamer, Spokane, on the latest trip in Alaskan waters, formed the Alaska Cruise Club, which is the first tourist club to be organized in America. Mrs. Mary E. Hart, official lecturer of the Pacific Coast Company was honored with the first office of the club. The club is to have rooms in the Alaska Building at the Panama Pacific International Exposition in 1915.

Travels Stikine On Raft of Logs.

An eccentric traveler and a peculiar craft has been seen on the Stikine river of late by the crews of the Nahlin and Black Fox and by Wm. Strong who makes frequent trips up the river for fish. The craft is a raft of logs on which the traveler makes his way leisurely floating with the current and from which he refuses to change to the offered "lifts" in gasboats. The identity of the party is not known but he is thought to have been prospecting in the Naas River country for the past three years.

Penelope Visits Wrangell.

The auxiliary cruiser, Penelope, of Seattle, called in at Wrangell Monday. Sidney F. and Hublin S. Mott, prominent Seattle businessmen, their mother, aged 70, and Miss Dixon, who make up the Penelope party report an enjoyable trip of twenty-one days from Seattle.

Washington Man Loses Finger.

Geo. Wahl, of Blaine, Wash., who is in the employ of the Alaska Sanitary Packing Company, lost a finger at the cannery trap. Tuesday afternoon, the big hammer of the pile driver effectually severed the index finger of the left hand and injuring the other fingers to a great extent.

Wabash In Shape

With a new Mate, a new Scripps motor a new pilot house and a new coat of paint, the Wabash is again in commission for the summer. The paint is slightly Irish, being very green with orange trim at the guards.

St. Phillips Church

"The Meat For a Man of Power" will be the theme at St. Phillips Church Sunday Evening July 21.

Motor Boat Club To Picnic at Pat's.

The members of the Wrangell Motor Boat Club, at a meeting, decided to have a fishing expedition at Pat's Creek next Sunday. The party will start from the Hotel float at 9:00 A. M.

Receives X-ray.

Dr. Dawes has recently received a modern X-ray from an eastern surgical appliance firm and is now prepared to see the exact location and condition of fractured bones. The outfit which is fitted to run on the city current consists of coil, rheostat, interrupter, volt and ammeter in a compact cabinet. The X-ray tube which throws the greenish penetrating rays operates on a voltage high enough to overcome a six inch gap.

M. A. Crossman, who broke both wrists in a fall several weeks ago, was the first willing victim to be looked through and he saw for himself that his bones were mending properly.

The Latest and Largest Line of Summer Hats for Ladies, Gentlemen or Children are now being displayed in our windows. They consist of straws, silk and cotton crashes, white ducks and felts. The most particular person will be able to find a fit in this large assortment.

Subject for a book (also for a tax) Kalkin's colossal collection of classical canines.

Fishermen may strike but the sawmill whistle is on the job each morning at seven.

It's the Alaska sunshine that has caused five Front Street business houses to purchase awnings.

It's a safe bet that Uncle Ike Stephenson has been doing some hard thinking since the Senate did the Lorimer Expulsion Act.

Next thing you know the politicians will be quarreling over the division of the royalties on the fight films. —Ex

Soft Iron Horseshoes.
In Spain very few horseshoes are forged in their shops. They make their shoes without the aid of a fire, a possibility largely due to the pure, soft, ductile iron primarily manufactured with wood and charcoal.

January.
January derives its name from the Roman god Janus, who was represented with the two faces. One was the face of an old man, representing the past year, the other that of a youth, in reference to the new year.

ATTITUDE TOWARDS CORPORATIONS.

Let us say to those large aggregations of capital, "Come into our midst; build railroads, operate steamship lines, start canneries, open the mines of coal and copper and gold, give employment to as many of our people as possible, and all the legitimate fruits of your energy, your daring, your enterprise shall be yours, without let or hindrance. We do not hate you; we want you to come; we want you to succeed; we will help you to succeed, if you do not succeed. We realize that Alaska cannot be developed without the aid of capital. The poor man cannot build a railroad, nor operate a steamship line, nor open a coal mine, establish a cannery, and, yet, without these things, trade languishes, development is impossible, enterprise halts on the very threshold and there is no employment for our people; and if our people have no employment they cannot pay the butcher, the baker, the merchant; business houses fail, stagnation ensues and the pall of depression hangs over the land.

But let us, also, and at the same time, say to them: You must not interfere with the cause of justice; you must not seek to own the courts, to corrupt juries, to buy or intimidate witnesses; you must keep your hands off the hem of the garment of the white robed figure of justice, for you are no better before the law than the poorest citizen or the most insignificant of your employees, and

You must not seek to own Legislatures or Congresses or Municipal Councils; to the end that they may confer upon you special privileges and advantages not enjoyed by others or that you may influence legislation to your advantage. Your business is not the making of laws; and

You must pay your just proportion of the taxes which go the support of this Commonwealth.

Let us say to them, "if you come to build up, develop, to act within the law, to do the right thing and the fair thing and the square thing, you are as welcome as the flowers of May, but if you come with the intention to loot, to destroy, to corrupt, to evade just obligations, the hand of every honest man will be clenched to drive you from our midst."

Let us encourage capital to come to Alaska; let us be just and fair and even liberal to it; but let us be watchful that it be not given the power or opportunity to oppress our people."

"The Home of the Fishermen"

He Wouldn't Advertise.

There was a man who hustled not—
To luck he trusted;

Leafless Trees.
Forests of leafless trees are to be found in some parts of Australia. The trees respire through a little stem which apparently answers the same purpose as a leaf. The tree is known as the leafless acacia.

Captains of Ocean Liners.
The captain of an Atlantic liner receives little more than $50 for taking a ship worth $5,000,000, valuable cargo, 2,000 passengers and a shipment of specie across 3,000 miles of the worst sea in the world.

Naval Dentistry.
"We were sailing," said the old mariner, "right in the teeth of the gale."
"Was that the time when you ran right into the jaws of death, Uncle Silas?" breathlessly interrupted his juvenile auditor.—Chicago Tribune.

Could Go as Far as He Liked.
"I think I'll have to take two stitches in the wound."
"Better take a few more, doctor. I'm going to make the accident insurance company pay the bill."—New York Press.

Just Like a Picture.
"She's as pretty as a picture," said the young man.
"Yes," replied the young woman, with a glance at her rival's complexion, "and hand painted too."—Stray Stories.

Barbarous.
Mrs. Greening—And what does this statue represent? Mrs. Browning—That is Psyche, executed in terra cotta. Mrs. Greening—Poor thing! They are so barbarous in those South American countries.—Boston Transcript.

She Believed Him.
She—What has happened to Miss Muddock? He—That affable young fellow told her she had a mustel laugh, and she went into hysterics over one of his stories.—Woman's Home Companion.

Father's Joy.
"What did you buy your little son that expensive mechanical toy for? He isn't old enough to appreciate it yet."
"I know, but I'll get a lot of fun showing him how it works."—Detroit Free Press.

On the Stage.
Actor—The people in this town don't understand acting. I'll be hanged if I ever act here again! Stage Manager—You will, my boy! It was all I could do to keep the audience from lynching you tonight.—Lippincott's.

Perhaps Premature.
"Can I marry your daughter?" asked A.
"Can you support her?" countered B.
"Lordy," exclaimed A, "maybe I was premature! Have you lost your job?"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Forbidden.
"And what is your favorite game, my little man?" asked the friend of the family.
"Oh, any game mother thinks is too rough for me to play," replied the little man.—Philadelphia Record.

Animal Life.
The average life of an elephant is a century, while a rabbit lives seven years and a cow fifteen.

Newfoundland.
Newfoundland is the old British colony and was discovered by John Cabot in 1497.

Patients and Patience.
First Doctor—I hear your practice has got very small. Second Doctor—Yes; I'm getting out of patients.

A Factor in the Problem.
Blanche—Does she love him? Clara—How can she tell? She doesn't know yet what his income is.

Early Chinese Astronomy.
Astronomical observations in China were carried on as far back as 2253 B. C.

Cold Air.
Cold air contains more oxygen than warm air, requires fewer respirations and consumes less heart energy.

Remorse.
That is the bitterest of all—to wear the yoke of our own wrongdoing.—George Eliot.

Where Extremes Meet.

Water freezes every night the year round in Alto Crucero, Bolivia, while at noon each day the sun is hot enough to blister the flesh. Above all others, it is the place where extremes meet.

Pressed Tea.

Pressed tea, manufactured by an English firm for the use of travelers, resembles plug tobacco.

Ebb and Flow.

He—How clean the surf keeps the seashells! She—Yes, you know the sea is very tidy!

Cabbage.

Cabbage, like all vegetables that have been cultivated for ages, is believed to be of eastern origin.

The Suez Canal.

Ninety-nine miles is the total length of the Suez canal, and the width is just over 121 feet.

The English Language.

Out of the 1,629,000,000 inhabitants of the world 100,000,000 speak the English tongue.

The Ruling Passion.

He (reading)—She wore an air of mystery. She (absently)—How was it trimmed?

A Merry Old Sole.

Tennyson clung as tenaciously to his old boots as to his old hats. William Allingham records in his diary on March 20, 1881: "Browning dined at Tennyson's last night. Tennyson in great force. He said, 'This pair of dress boots is forty years old.' We all looked at them, and I said it was good evidence of the immortality of the soul."—London Chronicle.

A Philosopher.

"Don't you find it harder and harder to live within your means?"

"Oh, I found several years ago that it was absolutely impossible. That's why I've bought an automobile and joined two more clubs. One has to manage somehow to keep from letting it get on one's nerves."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Unforeseen.

"I notice that you courteously refrain from mentioning the name of your political rival in any of your speeches."

"I can't say my practice in that respect is so much a matter of courtesy as of prudence. I once started in to denounce a rival, but as soon as I mentioned his name the audience burst into deafening and continuous applause."—Washington Star.

Mount Genevieve.

From Mount Genevieve, a peak in Gilpin county, Colo., a person can see into five states. On a clear day the observer can discern the Utah mountains of eastern Utah, the Medicine Bow range of Wyoming, the tips of the Rockies in New Mexico and the principal peaks of Colorado. The plains stretching to the east are plainly visible clear into Nebraska.

An English Turf Custom.

A curious usage of the English turf is one which ordains that, when once worn, the cap and jacket representing a patron's "colors" become the property of the jockey. If, as frequently happens, the owner wishes to retain them as a memento of a successful race, he must buy them from the employee to whom perhaps he gave them but an hour or two before.

Up and Coming.

Father—You only come to see me when you need money. Son—Shall I come oftener?—Satire.

The Carp.

Every time the carp breathes it moves 4,381 bones and muscles; its veins number 4,320.

Wanted to Know.

First Actor—Yes, sir; I was called at the end of every act. Second Actor—What?—Boston Transcript.

A Monopoly.

She—I've had that parrot a year, and it has never said a word! He—Why not give it a chance?

A Hank of Yarn.

In the west of England there is a yarn measure known as the "hank." It is 320 yards long.

Poisonous Plants.

Hemlock, foxglove, monkshood, the seeds of laburnum, common laurel and yew are all poisonous to human beings.

The Yukon Valley.

Frequently the winter highways in the Yukon valley are mere trails, traversed only by dog sledges.

FISHER'S BLEND FLOUR

Better than the Best

WITHOUT our knowledge, the Columbus Laboratories of Chicago tested Fisher's BLEND FLOUR for a Dakota Wheat Grower. The analysis ranked Fisher's BLEND FLOUR higher in General Average, Gluten Quality, Water Absorption and Loaf Value than the best Dakota all-Hard Wheat Patent Flour, which is the recognized standard for bread-stuff efficiency. Fisher's BLEND FLOUR is a scientific combination of Eastern Hard Wheat and Western Soft Wheat, preserving the best qualities of each. It costs you from 20 to 25% less than a straight Eastern Hard Wheat Flour—does.
